

NEWS RELEASE: ATL FUEL CELLS FEATURED ON “FULL METAL CHALLENGE” TV SERIES

ATL Racing Fuel Cells of Ramsey, New Jersey, is proud to have supplied racing fuel cells for the “Full Metal Challenge” television series. Billed as the ‘Ultimate in Mechanical Combat’ the show pits 27 teams from around the world against each other in a series of speed, agility and endurance competitions.

The ATL Racell RA103, a three gallon “race cell”, was chosen for its compact size, proven track record and, most importantly, its FIA-FT-3 rating. The RA103 Racell comes complete with safety foam baffling, outlet, vent check valve and aircraft style fill cap.
